BIGELOW

1 JOHN BIGELOW first appears on the records at Watertown, Mass., in the first marriage at that place, when on the 30th of 8th month, 1642, he married Mary Warren, the ceremony being performed by Mr. Nowell. They had thirteen children and she died Oct. 9, 1691 and he on July 14, 1703, aged 86 years. He served in the Pequot War of 1637 and on the return of the soldiers who served in King Philip's War of 1675/6 his name may also be found. He was a surveyor of highways in 1652 and 1660; Constable in 1663 and one of the Selectmen in 1665, 1670 and 1671. He married second, Oct. 2, 1694, Sarah Bemis.

2 SAMUEL BIGELOW, son of John and Mary (Warren) Bigelow, was born in Watertown, Mass., Oct. 28, 1653 and married there June 3, 1674, Mary, daughter of Thomas and Mary Flagg, born January 14, 1658, died Sept. 7, 1720. His will was proven Feb. 21, 1731. He was licensed as an innholder from 1702 to 1716 and represented Watertown in the General Court 1708, 1709, 1710.

3 JOHN BIGELOW, son of Samuel and Mary (Flagg) Bigelow, was born in Watertown, Mass., May 9, 1675 and married there June 12, 1696, Jerusha, daughter of Joseph and Sarah Garfield of that place, born there, June 6, 1677, died in Marlboro, Mass., Jan. 16, 1758. He also died in the latter place on Sept. 8, 1769.

He was the first of his name to settle in Marlboro which he did soon after his marriage, in that part known as "The Farm." On his wedding day a man named Dorr, presented him with three old chairs which he claimed had been in the Dorr family for three generations and made in England in 1620. These chairs have been handed down in the family and in 1890 were owned by Mr. W. Williams of Chicago, one of his descendants.

On Oct. 5, 1705, John Bigelow, Thomas Sawyer and son Elias were at work in that part of Lancaster, now Boylston, and were surprised and taken prisoners by the Indians and carried to Canada and there held by the French Governor, obtaining their release in the following manner: Sawyer was a blacksmith and Bigelow a carpenter and they proposed to the Governor, that if he would release them they would build a saw-mill, there being none in Canada at that time. Their offer was accepted and the first saw-mill in Canada was built by them on the River Chamblay, and they were permitted to return home but young Sawyer was kept several months after.

The following is a copy of a letter written to John Bigelow by his wife, while he was in captivity:

"Marlbury, Aug. 22, 1706.

"Dear and loving Husband. In much grief and tender affection, greatly lamenting your miserable condition, hoping in the mercy of God who has prospered you and kept you alive hitherto and will in his own time work your deliverance, that these few lines may find you in health as I am at present and the children, blessed be God for it and for all his mercy bestowed on you and on myself."

"This may acquaint you that I received your letter dated January the 6th on the 6th of Aug. last, and for which I am though in much sorrow and grief, thankful to you. And I do most humbly and importunately petition the Governor to have pity and compassion on yourself and me."

"Lamentations 3:25. The Lord is good to them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him. It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord, for the Lord will not cast off forever, but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

Wherefore should a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins. Let us search, and try our way, and turn again to the Lord."

"I remain your loving wife, greatly sorrowing for you.

JERUSHA BIGELOW."

"I do further acquaint you that brother Samuel and Thomas is well and the rest of our relations."

After his return from captivity he named his first two children Comfort and Freedom, evidently expressing his happiness in being once more in his own home.

4 COMFORT BIGELOW, daughter of John and Jerusha (Garfield) Bigelow, was born Sept. 23, 1707 and died Sept. 24, 1755 as the wife of Joseph Brigham, whom she married Aug. 26, 1728.

See Brigham.

4 GERSHOM BIGELOW, son of John and Jerusha (Garfield) Bigelow, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Nov. 13, 1714 and died there Jan. 3, 1812. He married there Mary, daughter of Thomas and Rebecca Howe, born June 30, 1718, died June 9, 1802. They lived on the old homestead and he served the town as Selectman, 1763, 1764. He was also a member of Capt. Abraham William's Co. in 1757.

5 LT. IVORY BIGELOW, son of Gershom and Mary (Howe) Bigelow, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Oct. 7, 1741 and died there, Feb. 14, 1804. He married there Aug. 13, 1763, Sophia, daughter of Lt. John and Martha Banister, born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 7, 1717, died there Aug. 13, 1830.

On the death of his father-in-law, the Banister place passed into his hands and up to 1890 was still in the possession of the Bigelow family.

His services in the Revolutionary War were as follows: "In Capt. Benjamin Munroe's Co., List of men serving in 1778 and 1779; also as 2nd Lt. in Capt. Moses Barnes' Co., 4th Middlesex Regt." Reference: Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolution, p. 25.

"In Capt. Benjamin Munroe's Co.: pay abstract for three months and ten days from date of enlistment, Dec. 24. Year not given but probably 1778." Reference: Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolution, p. 31.

6 GERSHOM BIGELOW, son of Lt. Ivory and Sophia (Banister) Bigelow, was born in Marlboro, Mass., March 22, 1768 and died there Oct. 27, 1847. He married first, Jan. 22, 1787, Mary, daughter of Abraham and Lydia (Howe) Howe, born Feb. 22, 1769, died April 20, 1820; he married second, April 16, 1822, Eunice, daughter of Nathan and Susanna (Sawyer) Wilder, born Sterling, Mass., Jan. 13, 1790, died June 17, 1873 in Ohio.

7 LEVI BIGELOW, known as "Esquire," son of Gershom and Mary (Howe) Bigelow, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Oct. 28, 1790 and died there April 3, 1859. He married July 23, 1809, Nancy, daughter of Deacon Moses and Lydia Ames, born in Marlboro, Mass., March 1, 1792. She died suddenly Jan. 22, 1850. He, at the age of nineteen, taught school in Holden, Mass., which vocation he followed winters for nearly thirty years. The remaining months he devoted to farming. For some years he was interested in a country store with his brother Lambert, located in the western part of Marlboro. In addition to his farming he did surveying, made out deeds and settled estates; was a Justice of the Peace for thirty years. He represented Marlboro in the general court, 1831, 1832, 1834, 1839 and was one of the Assessors for seventeen years. In all of these positions he was known for his sterling integrity, firmness of mind, perseverance and honesty.

7 CHARLES DANA BIGELOW, son of Gershom and Eunice (Wilder) Bigelow, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 17, 1823 and died in Richmond, Va., May 19, 1883, while temporarily sojourning there. He married May 24, 1848, Eunice Ann, eldest daughter of Emerson and Lydia Howe, born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 16, 1831, died in Arlington, Mass., June 22, 1913.

His education was gained in the public schools with the exception of a short time in the private school of John E. Frye at Boston. In the spring of 1841 he went to learn the trade of making sewed shoes, of Thomas Holder of Berlin and after working about a year, returned home and commenced work bottoming sewed shoes, taking out work from the manufacturers in the neighboring towns and employed at one time eleven men in a small shop on his father's place, some three miles from the center of the town. He was one of the earliest to divide into simple parts the operation of putting together the shoe, in this manner making use of those inexperienced in shoe-work for many of the operations. In 1844 he increased his business to four shops in the same school district and about this time he commenced to make pegged work and secured his materials from the shop of J. B. Kimball & Co. of Westborough, eight miles distant and this he continued for about one year. During the winter of 1845/6 he attended school and in the spring resumed his shoe work, engaging a larger force. In 1847 he built a shop in the village which at that time was the largest in town and shortly commenced to manufacture shoes for himself and was the first to employ Canadian Frenchmen in that vicinity. In 1852 he met with a serious misfortune, having lost his shop and all its contents by fire, but nothing daunted, he removed to New York City and again started the manufacture of shoes and during the Civil War he was running large shops in the prisons at Trenton, N. J., Providence, R. I. and in the Penitentiary at Albany, N. Y. and also had a large shop at Worcester, Mass.

He organized the Bay State Shoe and Leather Co. of Worcester, Mass. and was its President for many years. He was a man of great executive ability and as a manufacturer had no superiors and few equals.

A few years before his death he retired and was succeeded in his business by his sons, Charles E. and Edwin W. Bigelow, and spent the remainder of his life in travel and recreation.

HOWE

1 ABRAHAM HOWE is first mentioned in New England when he married in Watertown, Mass., May 6, 1657, Hannah, daughter of William and Elizabeth Ward. They removed after 1662 to Marlboro, Mass., where in 1694 he kept an inn at which the Commissioners of Mass. to treat with the Mohawks lodged on the first night of their journey. He died in Marlboro, June 30, 1695 and his wife died Nov. 3, 1717. His home was near where the school house No. 2, stood in 1862. He served in King Philip's War of 1675/6. As far as historians have discovered he was not closely, if any, related to John Howe, the other Howe settler of Marlboro.

2 JOSEPH HOWE, son of Abraham and Hannah (Ward) Howe, was born in Watertown, Mass., Feb. 12, 1662 and married in Marlboro, Dec. 29, 1687, Dorothy Martin, whose ancestry has not been revealed although diligent research has been made. He died Sept. 4, 1700 and she settled his estate. He was a large landowner in Marlboro, Lancaster and Watertown and owned also a grist mill at Feltonville, probably the first one erected in that place.

3 JOSEPH HOWE, son of Joseph and Dorothy (Martin) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 19, 1697 and married first, Feb. 22, 1722, Zerviah, daughter of Capt. Daniel Howe. She died Dec. 10, 1723; he married second, July 12, 1727, Ruth, daughter of Jonathan and Mary (Fay) Brigham, born April 30, 1704, died Oct. 14, 1781. He died Feb. 18, 1775. He was one of the Selectmen of Marlboro, 1740, 1741, 1744, 1746, 1754.

3 ABRAHAM HOWE, son of Joseph and Dorothy (Martin) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., March 21, 1698 and married there, May 24, 1724, Rachel, daughter of Benjamin and Mary (Graves) Rice, born Nov. 2, 1703.

4 JOSEPH HOWE, son of Joseph and Ruth (Brigham) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 1, 1728 and died there, Sept. 26, 1800. He married, May 21, 1751, Grace, daughter of Simon and Grace (Newton) Rice, born June 13, 1729, died Jan. 23, 1816. His services in the Revolutionary War as per Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolution, p. 342, are: Sergt. under Capt. John Banister, Col. Job Cushing. Enlisted Sept. 7, 1777, discharged Nov. 29, 1777. Roll sworn at Worcester: with Northern Army.

4 ABRAHAM HOWE, son of Abraham and Rachel (Rice) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Dec. 14, 1730 and died there, March 12, 1770. He married there, Sept. 17 (another record claims Sept. 30), 1755, Lydia Howe, whose parents are most elusive. All the Lydia Howe's in the vital records have been traced and she has not been placed. The historian of the town states in one place that she was the daughter of Ephraim and Elizabeth Howe, but on another page states that their Lydia married Noah Beaman as the vital records prove she did. Abraham Howe was accidentally killed while going home from church but history fails to tell us how.

5 JOSEPH HOWE, son of Joseph and Grace (Rice) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., March 8, 1775 and died there, Feb. 4, 1828. He married there, Oct. 30, 1799, Eunice Howe, daughter of Josiah and Molly (Adams) Howe, a descendant of the pioneer John Howe. She was born July 28, 1780 and was living in 1862.

He served as one of the Selectmen of Marlboro from 1806 to 1820.

5 MARY HOWE, daughter of Abraham and Lydia (Howe) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 22, 1769 and was baptized there, April 16, 1769 and died there, April 20, 1820 as the first wife of Gershom Bigelow, born March 22, 1768, died Oct. 27, 1847.

See Bigelow.

6 EMERSON HOWE, son of Joseph and Eunice (Howe) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Nov. 12, 1805 and died there, May 8, 1846; married there, May 1, 1830, Lydia, daughter of Levi and Nancy (Eames-Ames) Bigelow, born March 22, 1810, died April 6, 1879. He was one of the Selectmen of Marlboro in 1843.

7 EUNICE ANN HOWE, daughter of Emerson and Lydia (Bigelow) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 16, 1831 and died in Arlington, Mass., June 22, 1913, as the widow of Charles Dana Bigelow.

See Bigelow.

HOWE

1 JOHN HOWE resided first at Watertown, Mass., but was in Sudbury as early as 1639 and admitted freeman in 1640. In 1642 he was one of the Selectmen of that place and in 1655 was appointed by the pastor of the church and the Selectmen of the town "to see to the restraining of youth on the Lord's day." He signed the petition for the Marlboro Plantation and according to tradition he was the first white man to settle on it. He came to Marlboro about 1657 and built a cabin a little to the east of the Indian Planting Field, where his descendants lived for many generations. His place was situated about one hundred rods from Spring Hill Meeting House, a little to the east of the present road from Spring Hill to Feltonville and it was occupied in the 1860's by Edward Rice. His proximity to the Indian Plantation brought him in direct contact with the natives and by his kindness he gained their confidence and good will and they frequently made him umpire in cases of difficulty among themselves. In a case where a pumpkin vine sprang up within the premises of one Indian and the fruit ripened upon the premises of another the dispute which arose between them as to its ownership was referred to him. He called for a knife and severed the fruit giving a moiety to each, showing such wisdom that the Indians considered it the perfection of justice and his reputation for impartiality was firmly established. He opened the first public house in Marlboro sometime before 1670. He served as one of the Selectmen from 1661 to 1664 inclusive and died May 28, 1680. All that is known of his wife is that she was "Mary" as he mentioned her in his will.

It has been printed that he was the son of John Howe of Warwickshire, Eng., who descended from the family of Sir Charles Howe of Lancaster in the reign of Charles the First but Savage, the best authority known on New England families denies the claim.

2 JOSIAH HOWE, son of John and Mary Howe, was probably born in Sudbury, Mass. He married March 18, 1671, Mary, daughter of John and Dorothy (Noyes) Haynes, born in 1647. His estate was not settled until 1711 but it is recorded that he died in 1687. He served in the Marlboro Garrison in King Philip's War of 1675/6. His widow married John Prescott.

2 THOMAS HOWE, son of John and Mary Howe, was born June 12, 1656 and married June 8, 1681, Sarah, daughter of James Hosmer, Jr. She died April 7, 1724 and he married second, Dec. 24, 1724, Mrs. Mary Baron. He died Feb. 16, 1733. He was one of the prominent citizens of Marlboro, Mass. and rose to the rank of Colonel in the militia and as Captain, commanded the Garrison at Marlboro in Queen Anne's War of 1707. He went to the relief of Lancaster in the Indian uprising of 1704. He represented the town of Marlboro at the General Court in the years of 1700, 1701, 1704, 1706-1711, 1713, 1717, 1718, 1719.

In 1696 he kept a public house and the bond he had to give shows the spirit of the times as it provided among other things "that he shall not suffer or have any playing cards, dice, tally, bows, nine pins, billiards or other unlawful games in his house, nor suffer to remain in his house any person or persons not being in his own family, on Saturday night after dark or on the Sabbath days, etc." also "nor shall he sell any wine to negroes or Indians or suffer any servant or other person to remain in his house drinking after nine o'clock at night, etc."

3 JOSIAH HOWE, son of Josiah and Mary (Haynes) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., 1678 and married there, Nov. 22, 1713, Mary, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Faulkner) Marble, born in Andover, June 1, 1691. She was his second wife, he having first married in 1706, Sarah Bigelow. He died in Marlboro, Sept. 20, 1766.

3 THOMAS HOWE, son of Thomas and Sarah (Hosmer) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., June 16, 1692 and died there, April 2, 1777. He married Rebecca Perkins, baptized in Wenham, Mass., 1692, who died July 3, 1774. He served as one of the Selectmen of Marlboro in 1745, 1746, 1761, 1763, 1771 and was Treasurer of the town in 1739, 1740, 1765, 1767, 1768, 1769.

4 JOSIAH HOWE, son of Josiah and Mary (Marble) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Dec. 22, 1720 and married there, Aug. 12, 1741, Mary, daughter of Benjamin and Hannah Goodale, born April 30, 1719. Dates of death have not been found.

4 MARY HOWE, daughter of Thomas and Rebecca (Perkins) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., June 30, 1718 and died there, June 9, 1802, as the wife of Gershom Bigelow, born Nov. 13, 1714, died Jan. 3, 1812.

See Bigelow.

5 JOSIAH HOWE, son of Josiah and Mary (Goodale) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., June 30, 1748 and died there, Jan. 15, 1827. He married there, Feb. 24, 1770, Molly Adams, daughter of John and Mercy Adams, of Acton, Mass. She died in Marlboro, June 2, 1845, aged 93 years, 10 months and 14 days.

He was elected Deacon of the First Church, Sept. 21, 1796. No service in the Revolutionary War has been found for him which is indeed strange owing to the locality in which he resided.

6 EUNICE HOWE, daughter of Josiah and Molly (Adams) Howe, was born in Marlboro, Mass., July 28, 1780 and was living there in 1862. She married there, Oct. 30, 1799, Joseph, son of Joseph and Grace (Rice) Howe, born March 8, 1775, died Feb. 4, 1828.

BANISTER

1 CHRISTOPHER BANISTER was one of the proprietors of Marlboro, Mass. in 1657 and married Jane, daughter of Thomas Goodenow. He signed the first order passed by the town after its incorporation and received his share in the first division of land in 1660. He died in Marlboro, March 30, 1678, aged about 42 years.

2 LT. JOHN BANISTER, son of Christopher and Jane (Goodenow) Banister, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 13, 1670 and married there, Nov. 11, 1695, Ruth, daughter of William and Ruth (Hill) Eager. He is called Lt. in all the records but his service as such could not be found. He died July 19, 1730.

3 LT. JOHN BANISTER, son of Lt. John and Ruth (Eager) Banister, was born in Marlboro, Mass. in 1696 and married there, Nov. 27, 1729, Martha Hayward, whose name in the death records is given in one place as Howard, but whose ancestry has been diligently sought and not found. She died Dec. 23, 1767 in her 65th year. Like his father he was known in Marlboro records as Lieutenant but no actual service has been found and it is fair to assume that they both served in the town militia. He died in Marlboro, Oct. 22, 1779.

4 SOPHIA BANISTER, daughter of Lt. John and Martha (Hayward or Howard) Banister, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 7, 1747 and married there, Aug. 13, 1763, Lt. Ivory Bigelow, who died Feb. 14, 1804 and she died Aug. 13, 1830.

BRIGHAM

1 THOMAS BRIGHAM was born in England in 1603 and died in Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 19, 1653. He married about 1637, Mercy Hurd, probably born in England but who died in Marlboro, Mass., Dec. 23, 1693. He was made freeman of the Mass. Bay Colony, April 18, 1637 and thus became a member of the body politic and acquired the right to vote. Preliminary to this he must have been a member of the Cambridge Church. On Oct. 1, 1639 he was chosen Constable. March 1, 1654/5 his widow married Edmund Rice of Sudbury to which place she removed taking all her children with her. After the death of Edmund Rice she became in 1664 the wife of Wm. Hunt of Marlboro who died in 1667 and she remained his widow the rest of her life.

In 1907, Thomas Brigham Rice of Barre, was the owner of the "Mercy Hurd Cap Box." The box measures $22\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length, is $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches in height and $7\frac{3}{4}$ inches in width and is of English oak one inch thick. A picture of the box was submitted to an accomplished architect of Boston, one of English birth and training, especially versed in English Gothic art. He pronounced it to be the work in the Gothic style of the 15th century or even probably as old as the 14th century.

2 MARY BRIGHAM, daughter of Thomas and Mercy (Hurd) Brigham, was probably born in Cambridge, Mass. about 1638; died in Watertown in 1676. She married John Fay and has the distinction of being the first Brigham born in America.

See Fay.

2 THOMAS BRIGHAM, son of Thomas and Mercy (Hurd) Brigham, was probably born in Cambridge, Mass. about 1640/1 and died in Marlboro, Nov. 25, 1716; he married, Dec. 27, 1665, Mary, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth (Moore) Rice. He went to Sudbury and Marlboro with his mother and on attaining his majority he bought of his stepfather a town right in Marlboro "of 24 acres with a frame dwelling thereon with all the privileges of the town commons and further additions of allotments to be made thereto." This land, situated near the Williams Pond in the southwest part of the town, was the beginning of his large farm, which included many acres stretching away towards Chauncey Pond in Westboro. He was one of the purchasers of the old plantation "Ockoocangansett" which had been reserved for the Indians out of the ancient boundaries of Marlboro and which many contended they forfeited by their perfidy during King Philip's War. Certain leading men of Marlboro including Thomas Brigham obtained without the consent of the General Court, title to this plantation of 5800 acres and formed a company. The deed disappeared so the amount paid is not known.

The old Thomas Brigham homestead, on the south side of the present Forest St. beyond the confluence of Glen St. about a score of rods from the highway and at the foot of Crane Hill, is a slightly raised rectangular plot about 30×75 feet from whose center (in 1907) springs a mature apple tree and here rest the last of the Marlboro Indians whose early generations listened to the great Indian Apostle, Eliot. Their last chief expired in his wigwam near Williams Pond and was buried at this place on the Brigham farm. This spot has always been sacredly preserved by the owners of the place who have been Thomas, the subject of this paragraph, Gershom Brigham, Benjamin Brigham, Warren Brigham, Benjamin T. Brigham, Elisha Bond, who purchased from Benjamin T., Bradford Latham, son-in-law to Bond and Geo. F. Nichols, who purchased from Latham in 1893. The chair in which Thomas Brigham died in 1716 is owned by (1907) Miss Martha L. Ames, one of his descendants, who resides (1907) on the old place in Marlboro.

Mary Rice, wife of Thomas Brigham, was born Sept. 19, 1646 and died before 1695.

3 JONATHAN BRIGHAM, son of Thomas and Mary (Rice) Brigham, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 22, 1674/5 and died there, Jan. 4, 1768; married there, March 26, 1696, his cousin Mary, daughter of John and Mary (Brigham) Fay, born Feb. 10, 1675, died Nov. 9, 1781. He settled on part of his father's homestead and in 1704 became Tythingman; 1714 Constable; 1715 Moderator and one of the Selectmen in 1719, 1722, 1732. He was commonly called the Indian Warrior. One day while chopping in the woods he saw an Indian preparing to take aim at him. He seized his own gun and stepped forward into full view, exclaiming as he did so, "shoot straight, you dog." Both fired at the same moment and the Indian with a tremendous whoop, bounded high in the air and fell dead.

3 GERSHOM BRIGHAM, son of Thomas and Mary (Rice) Brigham, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Feb. 22, 1680 and died there, Jan. 3, 1748/9; married May 18, 1703, Mehitabel, daughter of Joseph and Experience (Wheelock) Warren, born in 1684. Gershom settled on part of his father's extensive farm and in 1710 was surveyor for the west end of the town; tythingman in 1716; constable in 1721; one of a committee to "seat the meeting," 1727; Selectman, 1733.

4 RUTH BRIGHAM, daughter of Jonathan and Mary (Fay) Brigham, was born in Marlboro, Mass., April 30, 1704 and died there, Oct. 14, 1791. She married there, July 12, 1727 as his second wife, Joseph Howe, born Feb. 19, 1697, died Feb. 18, 1775, son of Joseph and Dorothy (Martin) Howe.

See Howe.

4 JOSEPH BRIGHAM, son of Gershom and Mehitabel (Warren) Brigham, was born in Marlboro, Mass., April 21, 1706 and died there, July 29, 1786. He married, Aug. 26, 1728, Comfort, daughter of John and Jerusha (Garfield) Bigelow, born Sept. 23, 1707 and died Sept. 24, 1755. He built the Joseph Brigham-Ames house which is still standing in Marlboro. He was a surveyor in 1734; constable, 1740; Selectman, 1749, 1750, 1762, 1764, 1771; warden, 1766 and tythingman, 1775.

5 LT. JOSEPH BRIGHAM, son of Joseph and Comfort (Bigelow) Brigham, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Sept. 27, 1743 and died there August 25, 1810. He married Lydia, daughter of Daniel and Zeruiah (Eager) Barnes, who died May 23, 1784, aged 41 years and 38 days.

His home was in Northboro where he was one of the Selectmen in 1799 and 1801 and Justice of the Peace in 1804. His services as given in Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolutionary War, page 531 are: "Lt. Joseph Brigham, Sergt. under Capt. Wm. Brigham. Marched on alarm April 19, 1775 to Cambridge, service 14 days; 2nd Lt., Capt. Paul Brigham and in list of officers in the Mass. militia. Commission dated Sept. 5, 1776."

His commission in 1907 was owned by Miss Martha L. Ames, one of his descendants.

6 LYDIA BRIGHAM, daughter of Lt. Joseph and Lydia (Barnes) Brigham, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 16, 1766 and died in Marlboro, April 4, 1850, as the widow of Deacon Moses Ames whom she married Nov. 7, 1785.

BROOKS

1 HENRY BROOKS was a resident of Concord, Mass. in 1639 and removed to Woburn about 1650 where he married Susanna, widow of Ezekiel Richardson. The name of his first wife is not known. Susanna died Sept. 15, 1681 and he married third, Annes Jaquith. He was one of the Selectmen of Woburn in 1669 and died there, April 12, 1683, six days after his last marriage. In a law suit Dec., 1658, he testified that he was then about 66 years of age.

2 JOHN BROOKS, son of Henry Brooks and his first wife, was born about 1623 and married Nov. 1, 1649, Eunice, daughter of Deacon John Mousall. She died in Woburn, Mass., Jan. 1, 1684 and he married second, Feb. 25, 1684, Mary Champney, daughter of John and widow of Theophilus Richardson, who survived him. He died in Woburn, Sept. 29, 1691. In his will dated July 29, 1690, he states that he is bound for Canada in the expedition against the French enemy and mentions his daughter Eunice Carter.

3 EUNICE BROOKS, daughter of John and Eunice (Mousall) Brooks, was born in Woburn, Mass., Oct. 10, 1655 and she married first in 1672, Rev. Samuel Carter, who died in 1693; second, Capt. James Parker (as his second wife), who died in 1701 and third John Kendall (as his third wife) who died in 1732 and whom she survived but the date of her death has not been found.

CARTER

1 REV. THOMAS CARTER, the first minister at Woburn, Mass., was a native of Suffolk Co., England and matriculated a sizar of St. John's College, Cambridge University, April 1, 1626, at which University he took the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Jan., 1629/30 and that of Master of Arts in 1633. He was admitted freeman of Dedham, Mass., March 9, 1636/7 but his residence there was brief and he became elder of the church in Watertown. He preached his first sermon in Woburn, Dec. 4, 1641, this being the second service of public worship ever held there and he was invited to become the settled minister of that place but the Town Records state "that it is doubtful whether Watertown would be willing to part with him." After much persuasion he became the first minister of Woburn and was ordained Nov. 22, 1642. He died there, Sept. 5, 1684, aged 74 years.

He married Mary, who died in Woburn, March 28, 1687, over whose parentage there has been great discussion. Savage, the leading authority on New England families, stating that she was a daughter of Philemon Dalton, while the compiler of the Carter Genealogy believes her to have been the daughter of George Parkhurst, Sr. of Watertown. Which is correct is still an open question.

2 REV. SAMUEL CARTER, son of Rev. Thomas and Mary Carter, was born in Watertown, Mass., Aug. 8, 1640 and graduated from Harvard College in 1660. In 1672 he married Eunice, daughter of John and Eunice (Mousall) Brooks, born in Woburn, Mass., Oct. 10, 1655 and he died as pastor of the church in Groton, Mass., in the autumn of 1693 having only been settled there about one year. While residing in Woburn, he was one of the Selectmen in 1679, 1681, 1682, 1683 and Commissioner of Rates in 1680 and Town Clerk in 1690 and teacher of the Grammar School in 1685 and 1686.

3 SAMUEL CARTER, son of Rev. Samuel and Eunice (Brooks) Carter, was born in Woburn, Mass., Jan. 7, 1677/8 and died in Lancaster, Mass., Aug. 30, 1738. He married in March, 1701, Dorothy, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary (Sawyer) Wilder, born in 1686 at Sudbury.

In the Indian attack on Lancaster in 1704 he lost his home by fire and his cattle by theft. He became one of the Selectmen there in 1723 and served the town on various other committees.

4 EUNICE CARTER, daughter of Samuel and Dorothy (Wilder) Carter, was born in Lancaster, in 1704 and died in Sterling, Mass., Nov. 16, 1789, as the widow of David Osgood, born Oct. 8, 1698.

DIVOLL

1 JOHN DIVOLL is first mentioned in the records of Lancaster, Massachusetts, when on the 23rd of 10th month, 1663, he married Hannah White. During King Philip's War as an Ensign he was killed by the Indians, February 10, 1676, while defending the home of Rev. Joseph Rowlandson, and his wife and children together with Mrs. Rowlandson, who was his wife's sister Mary, were carried into captivity as prisoners by Sam, Sagamon of the Nashawas, who was hung at Boston, September 26, 1676. In May, 1676, they were ransomed at Portsmouth with what children were then alive, some of them having succumbed to the hardships.

2 HANNAH DIVOLL, daughter of John and Hannah (White) Divoll, was born in Lancaster, Massachusetts, June 12, 1667 and was carried into captivity by the Indians, with her mother and others. Some records state that she died while in the hands of the Indians but Middlesex Co. records, Vol. 14, pp. 620, 621, 622, prove conclusively that she did not, although there is no account of her ransom, due probably to her extreme youth. She probably returned with her mother. She married in Marlboro in 1693, James Keyes, who died in Bolton, Sept. 25, 1746 and she died there, March 19, 1742.

See Keyes.

FISKE

1 ROBERT FISKE was born in Stadhaugh, England, about 1525 and married Sybil Gould. She was in great danger from religious persecution between 1553 and 1558 as was her sister Isabella, who was confined in a castle of Norwich and only escaped execution by the influence of her brothers. Robert fled to Geneva but later returned and died in the Parish of St. James at South Elmham, Eng., where he resided for a short time. The Fiske Genealogy traces the family a number of generations back of Robert, but as the dates are impossible it is best not to use them here.

2 THOMAS FISKE, son of Robert and Sybil (Gould) Fiske, was born in England, 1570 and died there, Feb., 1610. He married Margery, of whom nothing is known and resided in Fressingfield.

2 WILLIAM FISKE, son of Robert and Sybil (Gould) Fiske, was born in Laxfield, Eng., 1566 and married Anna, daughter of Walter Anstye of Tibbenham, Long Row in Norfolk. His will was proved May 17, 1623.

3 PHINEAS FISKE, son of Thomas and Margery Fiske, was born in England, 1610 and died in Wenham, Mass., 7 of 2 mo. 1673. He married first in England, Sarah, of whom nothing is known excepting that she died in Wenham, Sept. 10, 1659. He was Capt. of the Militia in Wenham and also Constable in 1644; representative to the General Court in 1653; appointed Commissioner to end small causes in 1654 and he with others constituted the first board of Selectment of Wenham.

3 NATHANIEL FISKE, son of William and Anna (Anstye) Fiske, married Mrs. Alice (Henel) Leman and resided in Weybred, England.

4 THOMAS FISKE, son of Phineas and Sarah Fiske, was born in England in 1632 and died in Wenham, Mass., Aug. 15, 1707. He married about 1650, Joanna, daughter of John and Joan White, baptized in England, Feb. 24, 1633. She died before 1695 and he married second that year, Mrs. Martha Fitch of Boston. His wife Joanna was fined ten shillings in Oct., 1652, for wearing a "tiffany hoode." He represented Wenham in the General Court in 1671 and many times thereafter and was Capt. of the Colony forces. He was "clerk of the writs" in 1654 and Town Clerk from 1661 to 1694. He was also moderator of the town meetings 1700, 1701, 1702, 1703 and 1704. In his will dated April 24, 1705, proven Sept. 1, 1707, he bequeaths his son-in-law John Perkins, for the latter's children, two parcels of land "in the great meadow that he already occupies, estimated to be about six acres. His daughter Mary, wife of John Perkins is not mentioned because she was not then living.

4 NATHANIEL FISKE, son of Nathaniel and Alice (Henel-Leman) Fiske, was born in Weybred, Co. Suffolk, Eng. and married Dorothy, daughter of John Symonds of that place.

5 MARY FISKE, daughter of Thomas and Joanna (White) Fiske, was born in Wenham, Mass., about 1655 and died there, Oct. 9, 1695 as the wife of John Perkins, who died there, March 15, 1717/18.

See Perkins.

5 NATHAN FISKE, son of Nathaniel and Dorothy (Symonds) Fiske, was born in England about 1615 and married Susanna, whose maiden name is not known. He located as early as 1642 in Watertown, Mass. and died there, June 21, 1676 having served as Selectman in 1673.

5 JOHN FISKE, son of Nathaniel and Dorothy (Symonds) Fiske, was born in England about 1619. He located in Watertown, Mass. and died there, Oct. 28, 1684. He married, Dec. 11, 1651, Sarah, the only child of Nicholas Wyeth and his first wife. His daughters at the age of 18 years, received from Philip Smith, the surviving executor of their uncle John Clark's estate, late of Newport, R. I. physician, legacies of land on the Island of Canonicut, on June 2, 1684 and George and Martha (Fiske) Adams, received a similar legacy each. The connection with John Clark has not been satisfactorily established.

6 SARAH FISKE, daughter of Nathan and Susanna Fiske, was born in Watertown, Mass.. 1656 and died May 14, 1728, as the wife of Abraham Gale, whom she married, Sept. 3, 1673.

See Gale.

6 MARTHA FISKE, daughter of John and Sarah (Wyeth) Fiske, was born in Watertown, Mass., Dec. 15, 1666 and married, Jan. 20, 1683, George Adams of Lexington.

FLAGG

1 WILLIAM FLAGG died in County Norfolk, England in 1426.

2 THOMAS FLAGG, son of Wm. Flagg, died in Co. Norfolk, Eng. in 1471.

3 WILLIAM FLAGG, son of Thomas Flagg, was of Swafeld, Co. Norfolk, England in 1521.

4 RICHARD FLAGG, son of William Flagg, was of Shipdham, Co. Norfolk, England and in his will, proven there, May 28, 1587, mentions wife Margaret and son John with others.

CHAPTER I

THE first thing that I observed when I stepped out of the train at the station was a sense of relief. The air was fresh and cool, a welcome change from the stuffy atmosphere of the train. I looked around me, taking in the sights and sounds of the new place. The station was a large, imposing building with a high, vaulted ceiling. The floor was made of polished stone, and the walls were covered in intricate carvings. The ceiling was supported by a series of tall, slender columns. The overall impression was one of grandeur and elegance. I walked through the station, my eyes taking in every detail. The floor was so polished that it reflected the light from the chandeliers hanging from the ceiling. The columns were so tall that they seemed to reach up to the sky. The carvings on the walls were so intricate that they seemed to tell a story. I was in awe of the architecture, and I knew that this was a place of great importance.

HAYNES

1 JOHN HAYNES and Alice Lambert were married Oct. 23, 1575 at Sherburne, Dorset, England. Just when he died is not known but she as a widow, made her will March 2, 1620 and was residing at that time in Semley, Co. Wilts, England. Her estate was inventoried in Feb., 1623. She mentions her son Walter, giving him the use "of my biggest brass pann during his life w^{ch} pann I give to Thomas Hayne his sonn and my silver spoone."

2 WALTER HAYNES, son of John and Alice (Lambert) Haynes, was born in Sutton, Mandeville, Co. Wilts, England in 1583 and owned a house in the village of Shaston in the island of Purbeck in the southeastern portion of Dorsetshire. He, with his family and servants, arrived in Boston, 1638, in ship Confidence and he is listed as a linen weaver. He took up his residence in Watertown but in about a year he, with others, obtained a grant for the town of Sudbury, Mass. and settled there, Dec. 22, 1639. He represented that place in the General Court of Massachusetts Bay, 1641, 1642, 1643, 1644, 1646, 1648, 1651 and was one of the town's Selectmen for ten years and died there, Feb. 14, 1665. He married in England, Elizabeth, maiden name not known.

3 JOHN HAYNES, son of Walter and Elizabeth Haynes, was born in England, 1621 and came to New England one year before his father and lived at Watertown. Removed to Sudbury with his father and represented that place in the General Court, 1668. He commanded a Garrison House there, during King Philip's War of 1675/6 and was in Phip's Expedition, 1690. He married, Oct. 13, 1642, Dorothy, daughter of Peter Noyes and died in Sudbury, Mass., Dec. 11, 1710.

4 MARY HAYNES, daughter of John and Dorothy (Noyes) Haynes, was born in Sudbury, Mass., 1647 and married May 18, 1671, Josiah, son of John Howe of Marlboro, Mass. They both died about 1687.

HOSMER

1 JAMES HOSMER, son of Stephen and Catharine (Iddenden) Hosmer (who were married at Hawkhurst, Co. Kent, England, July 8, 1601), was a clothier at Hawkhurst. Eng. In 1635 at 28 years of age with wife Ann, aged 27 years, he sailed for New England from London, in the ship Elizabeth. They first settled at Cambridge, Mass., where he was admitted freeman, May 17, 1637. They removed to Concord, where he died Feb. 7, 1685.

2 JAMES HOSMER, son of James and Ann Hosmer, was probably born in Cambridge, Mass. in 1637 and married in Concord, October 13, 1658, Sarah, daughter of John and Joan White. She was baptized in Salem, April 9, 1643. While serving in King Philip's War, he was killed during the Sudbury Fight, March 31, 1676 and she married second, Dec. 31, 1676, as his third wife, Samuel, son of Edmund and Tamazine Rice.

3 SARAH HOSMER, daughter of James and Sarah (White) Hosmer, was born in 1659, according to her grave stone in Marlboro and died April 7, 1724, as the wife of Thomas Howe, Sr., born June 12, 1656, died Feb. 16, 1733. Another record of her death gives the same date but states she was in her 62nd year.

HOUGHTON

1 JOHN HOUGHTON, son of John Houghton, who was buried on April 28, 1618 at Eaton Bray, Bedfordshire, England, was baptized there, May 19, 1593 and came to New England on the ship Abigail in 1635, but soon returned to England and died there.

2 JOHN HOUGHTON, son of John Houghton, was baptized in England, Dec. 24, 1624. He married Beatrix, whose maiden name is not known, about 1648 and she died Jan. 8, 1711/12 and he on April 29, 1684. The graves of both are in the burying ground at Lancaster, Mass. and the markings on their stones are still visible. He was in the Garrison at the time the Indians attacked Lancaster in 1675/6.

His first home there was between Clinton and South Lancaster on Dean's Brook, but after the massacre he settled on the old common, south of the road nearly opposite the present Reform School. Later he removed to Woburn and his estate extended from Clamshell Pond to Wm. Fife's land, thence to and including Baker Hill. One of his descendants residing in Washington, D. C. in 1912, had a sword which he claimed was brought to New England by John and his wife Beatrix. It has on it the rose and the thistle which emblems belong to this family. @ Robert

3 A JOHN HOUGHTON, son of John and Beatrix Houghton, died in Lancaster, Massachusetts, February 3, 1737, aged 86 years. He married, Jan. 22, 1671, Mary, daughter of Jacob and Ann Farrar. After the massacre in that town in 1675 he and his family fled to Woburn, but on the division of his father's estate he came into possession of the homestead at Lancaster and returned there. He was an expert penman and during nearly a generation a leading man at Lancaster and its vicinity. Between 1693 and 1724 he was a delegate to the General Court for fourteen years and seems to have been the only Magistrate in town for many years after its re-building. In 1704 he had command of a Garrison House on the east side of the Nashua River. For the last twelve years of his life he was blind. In King Philip's War he served in the Garrison, commanded by Lawrence Waters.

His wife died April 7, 1724 in her 76th year and in 1912 both of their grave stones were standing in good condition.

4 BEATRIX HOUGHTON, daughter of John and Mary (Farrar) Houghton, died as the wife of Elias Sawyer, son of Thomas and Hannah Sawyer.

1 ROBERT LONG was born in England in 1593 and died in Charlestown, Mass., Jan. 9, 1664. The History of Malden states that he was an innkeeper at Charlestown. He married Elizabeth, whose maiden name is not known and became in 1639 a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston.

2 SARAH LONG, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Long, became the wife of Abraham Hill of Malden, Mass., who died Feb. 13, 1669/70.

MORSE

1 JOSEPH MORSE was in Ipswich, Mass., before 1641, but owing to the destruction of the early records there, his standing in the community cannot be found. His will was dated Feb. 24, 1646 and his estate inventoried July 28th of that year, in which he mentions his wife Dorothy, whose maiden name is not known and he bequeaths his great cloak to his son Joseph and his great Bible to his daughter Hannah and other religious books to his children.

2 JOSEPH MORSE, son of Joseph and Dorothy Morse, aged 24 years, embarked for New England at Ipswich, England, April, 1634, sailing on the ship Elizabeth and his name is among the earliest proprietors of Watertown, Mass. and he was admitted freeman, May 6, 1635. He married in 1636, Hester, daughter of John and Elizabeth Peirce of Watertown and died March 4, 1690/1.

3 JOSEPH MORSE, son of Joseph and Hester (Peirce) Morse, was born in Watertown, Mass., April 30, 1637 and married there, Feb. 11, 1660/1, Susanna, daughter of William and Susanna

Shattuck of that place. After the birth of their second child they removed to Groton, where he died in 1677 and Susanna married second, July 5, 1678, John Fay, whose first wife was Mary Brigham. Susanna died March 16, 1716.

4 HANNAH MORSE, daughter of Joseph and Susanna (Shattuck) Morse, was born in Groton, Mass., April 7, 1674 and died in Marlboro, April 10, 1732 as the wife of John, son of John and Elizabeth (Larkin) Newton.

MOUSALL

1 JOHN MOUSALL was one of the first settlers of Woburn, Mass., and to him belongs the credit of building for his own use the first house erected in the limits of the present city, in 1641. He was one of the 32 signers of the original town orders of 1640, his name being third on the list. He was one of the seven male members from the church at Charlestown, who constituted the church of Woburn at its gathering, Aug. 14, 1642 and he became one of the two first Deacons and so remained until his death, March 27, 1665. Having been born in England in 1596, he was admitted freeman at Charlestown in 1634 which place he represented in the General Court in 1635. He was member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston in 1641. He served Woburn as one of its Selectmen for 21 years in succession.

In his will he left his granddaughter Eunice Brooks, "my book entitled Mr. Norton's Orthodox Evangelist."

The maiden name of his wife is not definitely known, but in his will he names his "brother James Thompson" one of his overseers and she may have been a Thompson. Her first name was Joanna.

2 EUNICE MOUSALL, daughter of Deacon John and Joanna Mousall, married in Woburn, Mass., Nov. 1, 1649, John, son of Henry Brooks, by his first wife. He died Sept. 29, 1691 and she Jan. 1, 1684.

See Brooks.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY

NEWTON

1 RICHARD NEWTON was born in England and came to New England in 1638, taking up his residence in Sudbury, Mass., but in 1656 signed the petition to the General Court for a plantation to be called "Marlborrow" and he was one of the settlers there in 1660 at its incorporation and he died there, August 24, 1701 "almost a hundred years old." He married Anne Loker, daughter of Henrie and Elizabeth Loker of Bures, St. Mary, County Essex, England. Henrie Loker was baptized in that place Feb. 7, 1576/7 and his will was proven there, April 15, 1631. His widow Elizabeth with son Harry were his executors. She came to New England and died at Sudbury, Mass., March 3, 1648. Richard Newton served in King Philip's War, 1675/6.

2 JOHN NEWTON, son of Richard and Anne (Loker) Newton, was born in Sudbury, Mass., Oct. 20, 1641 and died in Marlboro, Oct. 16, 1723. He married in Marlboro, June 5, 1666, Elizabeth, daughter of Edward and Joanna Larkin of Charlestown, Mass. He had a house-lot in Marlboro of sixteen acres in 1660, but did not share in the later divisions. During the Indian troubles of 1713 his family was assigned to the Isaac Howe Garrison on the Southboro Road.

3 JOHN NEWTON, son of John and Elizabeth (Larkin) Newton, was born in Marlboro, Mass., June 5, 1667 and died in Southboro, Mass., Jan. 27, 1754. He married in Marlboro, June 19, 1690, Hannah, daughter of Joseph and Susanna (Shattuck) Morse of Watertown and Groton, born in Groton; April 7, 1674, died in Marlboro, Sept. 10, 1732.

In the Indian troubles which followed King Philip's War the home of John Newton was made a Garrison House.

4 GRACE NEWTON, daughter of John and Hannah (Morse) Newton, was born Jan. 30, 1703/4 and died in Marlboro, Mass., May 16, 1788. She married there, Jan 23, 1726/7, Simon, son of Benjamin and Mary (Graves) Rice, whose estate she administered in 1733. She married second in Westboro, May 16, 1739, Edward Barnes, who died in 1755; she married third, Jan. 24, 1758, as his second wife, Ensign Daniel Ward.

NOYES

1 PETER NOYES was born in England in 1591 and came to New England in 1638 in the ship Confidence, bringing with him three sons and three daughters. No mention is made of his wife so she probably died in England. He resided in Sudbury, Mass., which place he represented in the General Court 1640, 1641, 1650 and died there, Sept. 23, 1657.

2 DOROTHY NOYES, daughter of Peter Noyes, was born in England in 1626 and came to America with her father in 1638 and married in Sudbury, Oct. 13, 1642, John Haynes, born in England, died Sudbury, Mass., Dec. 11, 1710. She died there, April 8, 1715.

OSGOOD

1 JOHN OSGOOD was born in the parish of Wherwell, Hampshire, England, July 23, 1595 and died in Andover, Mass., Oct. 24, 1651. He married in England, Sarah, maiden name not known, who died April 8, 1667. They came to New England in the ship Confidence, which sailed from Southampton, April 14th, 1638. They first settled at Ipswich, then Newbury, but finally made their home in Andover just previous to 1645. In 1651 Andover sent its first representative to the General Court in the person of John Osgood. His sickness and death prevented his attending any but the May session. The inventory of his estate represents wealth for those times. In his will he gave the Meeting House of Newbury, eighteen shillings to buy a cushion for the minister "to lay his Book upon."

2 STEPHEN OSGOOD, son of John and Sarah Osgood, was born about the time of the arrival of his parents in New England and resided in Andover, Mass., where in 1689 he was a Corporal in the Militia of that place and died there, of small-pox, Jan. 15, 1690/1. He married, Oct. 24, 1663, Mary Hooker.

3 HOOKER OSGOOD, son of Stephen and Mary (Hooker) Osgood, was born in Andover, Mass., Aug. 24, 1668 and died in Lancaster, Mass., Jan. 29, 1748. He married in Andover, April 26, 1692, Dorothy Woodman. He was by trade a sadler and moved from Andover to Lancaster about 1693 and in 1715 was one of the Selectmen of the latter place and very active in town affairs.

4 CAPT. DAVID OSGOOD, son of Hooker and Dorothy (Woodman) Osgood, was born in Lancaster, Mass., Oct. 8, 1698 and died in Sterling in 1771, where he was a farmer and owned a negro slave. He married, Nov. 3, 1724, Eunice Carter.

5 EUNICE OSGOOD, daughter of Capt. David and Eunice (Carter) Osgood, was baptized in Lancaster, March 20, 1724/5 and married, June 27, 1750, Abner, son of Josiah and Prudence (Keyes) Wilder and died in West Boylston, Feb. 14, 1786.

See Wilder.

PARMENTER

1 GEORGE PARMENTER of Little Yeldham, Co. Essex, England, was born about 1520 and was buried at Little Yeldham, Feb. 7, 1591/2. He married Alice, maiden name not known.

2 WILLIAM PARMENTER, son of George and Alice Parmenter, was born and died at Little Yeldham, England. He was buried Dec. 4, 1617. He married about 1585, Margery, maiden name not known. He inherited various lands from his father and copyhold lands called Cowell or Gouldwell by the will of his brother George. As only two of his children were baptized at Little Yeldham it is very probable that he was the Wm. Parmenter who was assessed in the subsidy of 1596-7 in the adjacent parish of Sible Hedingham.

3 DEACON JOHN PARMENTER, son of William and Margery Parmenter, was born in England about 1588. He inherited no lands from his father and after the latter's death he removed about eight miles from Little Yeldham into Bures St. Mary. In 1639 he, with his family and with the widow and children of Henri Loker, emigrated to New England, settling in Sudbury, Mass., as one of its first settlers and early became Deacon of the church and one of its Selectmen in 1658. In the summer of 1660 he removed to Roxbury, Mass., where he died May 1, 1671, aged 83 years, according to the church records of that place. He married first in England about 1609, Bridget, maiden name not known, who died at Sudbury, Mass., April 6, 1660.

4 MARY PARMENTER, daughter of John and Bridget Parmenter, was born in England about 1610, died at Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 17, 1690. She married John Woods of Sudbury and Marlboro, born about 1610, died July 10, 1678 at Marlboro.

See Woods.

PERKINS

1 JOHN PERKINS was baptized in Hillmorton, Co. Warwick, England, in 1583 and sailed from Bristol, Dec. 1, 1630, in the ship Lyon, with his entire family, arriving at Nantasket, Feb. 5, 1631 and at Boston the following day where he remained about two years when he removed to Ipswich where he died in 1654. His home there was near the river at the entrance to Jeffries Neck on what is now East Street. In 1635 he was granted a small island together with other acreage, which contained about thirty acres and was called More's Point. In 1882 this was purchased by one of his descendants, John Perkins, a shoe manufacturer of Ipswich.

He was Sergeant of the Allied English and friendly Indians at Ipswich in the War with the Tarratines of 1631 and represented the town in the General Court in 1636. He married in England, Oct. 9, 1608, Judith Gater, daughter of Michael and Elizabeth Gater, baptized March 19, 1588 at Hillmorton, Warwickshire.

2 JACOB PERKINS, son of John and Judith (Gater) Perkins, was born in England, 1624, and died in Ipswich, Massachusetts, January 27, 1699/00. He married about 1648, Elizabeth, whose maiden name is not known. As the youngest son he came into possession of the family homestead and the records state that his house was struck by lightning on "a Sunday in 1671 while people were there to repeat the sermon and he and many others were struck down and his waistcoat was pierced with small holes and he was beaten down as if dead."

The original house built by his father was destroyed by fire in August, 1668, by the carelessness of a servant; another was erected near the same spot which was standing in 1882 in a decayed condition. A well near by is still called Jacob's well. His family Bible in 1882 was owned by H. N. Perkins of Melrose. He was Sergeant of the Military Co. in Ipswich in 1664.

3 JOHN PERKINS, son of Jacob and Elizabeth Perkins, was born in Ipswich, Massachusetts, July 3, 1652 and died in Wenham, March 15, 1717/18. The Wenham vital records in recording his death call him "Sergeant." He married Mary Fiske, who died in Wenham, Oct. 9, 1695, the daughter of Capt. Thomas Fiske. He purchased large tracts of land on the borders of Wenham and Ipswich in 1693, which are now in Hamilton. His residence was in Wenham.

4 REBECCA PERKINS, daughter of John and Mary (Fiske) Perkins, was baptized in Wenham, Massachusetts, 1692 and died in Marlboro, July 3, 1794, as the widow of Thomas Howe, Jr., born June 16, 1692, died April 2, 1777, whom she married, April 26, 1715.

PRESCOTT

(His Royal Ancestry follows this lineage.)

1 JAMES PRESCOTT of Standish, Lancashire, England, married Elizabeth, daughter of Roger Standish, Esq. of Co. Lancaster.

2 ROGER PRESCOTT, son of James and Elizabeth (Standish) Prescott, married for his second wife, Aug. 23, 1568, Ellen Shaw of Standish. They are both buried there. His will is dated Sept. 26, 1594.

3 RALPH PRESCOTT, son of Roger and Ellen (Shaw) Prescott, was baptized in Standish, 1571 and married Elene, maiden name unknown, but she was executrix of his will, which was proven Jan. 24, 1609.

4 JOHN PRESCOTT, son of Ralph and Elene Prescott, was baptized at Standish Parish, Lancashire, Eng. in 1604, and married in Halifax Parish, April 11, 1629, Mary Gawkroger, alias Platts, baptized March 15, 1607. He sold his property in Shevington, Parish of Standish, and to avoid religious presecution, sought an asylum in the new world. He went first to Barbadoes in 1638, but in 1640 had located in Boston and after being a short time at Watertown, where large grants of land were allotted to him, he finally made his home in Lancaster and it is claimed that the town was named in his honor, after his old home county in England.

. He brought with him from England a coat-of-mail, helmet, cuirass and guns. His favorite gun he gave to his son John, who gave it to his son John, who gave it to his daughter Tabitha Brigham, who in her old age gave it to her grandson Prescott Brigham (Brigadier-General, born 1770), who removed to Wisconsin and when he died the gun was presented to the Wisconsin Historical Society, where it may still be seen.

During King Philip's War his home was a Garrison House. He died in 1681, having lived through the massacre and long enough to see Lancaster rebuilt, but during that struggle he saw his two sons-in-law, Richard Wheeler and Jonas Fairbanks, and his grandson, Ephraim Sawyer, killed by the Indians.

2 MARY PRESCOTT, daughter of John and Mary (Gawkroger) Prescott, was baptized at Sowerby, in Parish of Halifax, Yorkshire, Eng., Feb. 24, 1630.

She married in 1648, Thomas Sawyer of Lancaster, Massachusetts, who died Sept. 12, 1706.

See Sawyer.

ELEVENTH LINEAGE. (Vol. 3, p. 43, White Quarterly)

- 1 Siward, Earl of Northumberland, son of the Danish Earl Berne, married Ethelflaed, of the Saxon Earl of Northumberland, by whom he had son, Earl Waltheof. His fame survives in the chronicles and songs of Denmark. He erected a minster at Galmanho, near York, where he is buried. It was dedicated to St. Olaf of Norway, who was canonized in 1030. "When his end approached, the old fire blazed out in the aged warrior and he bade his attendants put his armor on and so, girt with harness and helmet, with sword by his side, with his shield in his left hand and his battle ax in his right, the old Earl fared forth." (History of City of York, by Canon Raines, p. 43-62.)
- 2 Waltheof in 969, Earl of Northumberland, married Judith, daughter of Lambert, Count of Lens, by wife Adeline (Countess of Albemarle and widow of Enguerrand, Count of Ponthieu, own sister to William the Conqueror), by whom he had son, Earl Uchtred. Waltheof descended on his mother's side from a long line of Bernician ancestors, earls and kings and his worst enemy was his wife, who sought his destruction. He was put to death, June 15, 1016, by William the Conqueror, and was finally buried at Glastonbury. He was Earl of Northampton and Huntingdon before he was Earl of Northumberland.

- 3 Uchtred, "the great Earl of Northumberland," was made Earl in 980, during his father's life time. He was murdered by Thursband in 1017. He married first, Edfrid, daughter of Aldane, Bishop of Durham; second, Sejan, daughter of Styr Fitz Ulf, and third, Edgiva, daughter of King Ethelred II and descended from King Alfred the Great.
- 4 Agatha, only child of the third wife and heiress of Raby and other large possessions from her mother, married Maldred, son of Crinan, an eminent Thane.
- 5 Cospatric, their only son, Earl of Northumberland, which title he obtained from the Conqueror for a considerable sum, became distrustful and fled into Scotland with other great northern chiefs, taking with him his mother and sisters and Edgar Aetheling also. He made several hostile incursions into England and consequently lost his earldom in 1072, but received in recompense the Earldom of Dunbar, and other adjoining lands in London from the Scotch King in 1073, the year in which he died.
- 6 Uchtred, son of Earl Cospatric, Lord of Raby, had son,
- 7 Dolfin, Lord of Raby, who married Alice, daughter of Walcher, Bishop of Durham and for a time Earl of Northumberland.
- 8 Maldred Fitz Dolfin, Lord of Raby and of Staindrop, Co. Durham.
- 9 Robert Fitz Maldred, Lord of Raby, married Isabel, only child and heiress of Geoffrey de Neville (and wife Emma, daughter of Bertram de Bulmer), grandson of Gilbert de Neville, a noble Norman, who came to England with the Conqueror as Admiral of his fleet and obtained large grants of land in Northumberland and an augmentation of his coat armor. Isabel was the heiress of her brother, Henry of Braucepath and Durham.
- 10 Geoffrey Fitz Robert or de Neville, Lord of Raby, Braucepath, etc., married Margaret.
- 11 Geoffrey de Neville, their second son, was Governor of Scarborough Castle and Appleby, and married Margaret, daughter of Sir John de Longuevilliers, Knight of Hornby Castle, grandson of Eudo de Longuevilliers by wife Clemence, daughter of John Matherby. Geoffrey de Neville was jure uxoris, Lord of Hornby Castle, Co. Lancaster, and left sons unknown to the compiler, one of whom was father to Sir John and the other father to Sir Robert. The former died without issue and left Hornby to his cousin Robert. Sir Geoffrey died in 1289, owning then Hornby, Tunstall, Weaton, Warrington, Cancefield and Farleton, with other lordships and manors in other counties. Margaret, the wife of Geoffrey, was called in a deed "consanguineous" to Hubert de Burgh, Earl of Kent, and wife Margaret, who according to Canon Raines was a Scottish Princess. Hubert de Burgh was descended from Robert, Earl of Moreton, half brother to the Conqueror and former owner of Hornby Castle, from whom it passed in 1242.

- 12 Robert de Neville of Hornby married and had besides the son below, a son Edmund, who had one-third of the manor of Middleton in the time of King Edward III.
- 13 Sir Robert de Neville of Hornby Castle married Anne, daughter of Sir William de Tunstal and Thursland Castle, within the Barony of Hornby. They had a daughter Margaret and son Sir Thomas of Hornby, who married and had a daughter Margaret, who married Thomas Beaufort, Duke of Exeter. Their only child died young in 1426, before his mother and Sir Thomas died without issue the same year. Sir Thomas Beaufort bequeathed the Lordship of Hornby to Sir William Harrington, who had married Margaret, daughter of Sir Robert de Neville and Anne.
- 14 Margaret de Neville married Sir William Harrington, Knight. (See No. 11 of 12th Lineage.)

DE NEVILLE

NOTE. Hornby Castle, centuries ago, had attracted the eye of the Roman soldier, and coins and tessellated pavements discovered in various alterations of the castle prove that the value of its site as a strategic position was fully recognized even then. At Domesday, Surrey, Hornby, was classed with Malling, Wennigetun as one manor, in which Ulf held nine carucates of land and when the Conqueror came, was held by Aleric whose grandson Adam, son of Swain, had two daughters, Maud and Annabel. Maud married Adam de Montbegon and the land of Hornby descended to Roger de Montbegon, his grandson who died in 1225. In 1226 it passed to a collateral relative, Henry de Montbegon, who in 1226 conveyed the Manor of Hornby and the castle to Hubert de Burgh, Chief Justice of England, and the Chamberlain of Shakespeare's King John. He died in 1242 and his widow Margaret married in York Cathedral and a Scottish princess, Countess of Kent, continued in its possession till she died in 1259. Then another claimant appeared in the person of Elena de Longuevilliers, who said her husband John had been entitled to the estate and that she as his widow should have one-third part as her dower and at last her claim was successful and towards the close of the reign of King Henry II, Hornby passed with Margaret, daughter to Sir John de Longuevilliers, to Geoffrey de Neville. (See Vol. 41, Historic Society Lancaster and Cheshire.)

NOTE. Raby Castle owes its splendor to John de Neville, Earl of Westmoreland, who in 1379 obtained leave to make a castle of his Manor of Raby and to embattle and castellate its towers. It is situated in the County of Durham about six miles from Barnard Castle on the east side of an extensive park. It has a very imposing effect and a striking idea of the magnificence of the feudal ages may be found from its extent, grandeur and well preserved state. Its foundation is a rocky eminence and it is environed with an embrazured wall and parapet, enclosing about two acres. The Nevilles do not appear to have been the first occupants here as some competent to judge conjecture. It is even said to date as far back as the time of Canute. The interior is divided into numerous apartments. The entrance hall is uncommonly grand; its vastness never failing to strike the beholder with admiration. The roof is arched and supported on six pillars with capitals. Here visitors leave their carriages, which are admitted into the Hall, and afterwards pass off on the opposite side, through the inner area and covered way. At one end is a flight of steps leading into the Presence Chamber, Music Room, Billiard Room, etc. Over the hall is another spacious apartment, 90 feet in length, 36 feet in height and 34 in breadth. This was the room where the ancient baronial festivals were celebrated and seven hundred knights, who held of the Nevilles, are recorded to have been entertained here at one time. The walls are of great solidity and strength. A description of the kitchen and oven would require more space than this article can allow. The latter has been converted into a wine cellar the sides being divided into ten parts, each holding a hogshead of wine in bottles. One of the terraces is upwards of 2250 feet in length. This seat continued to be the residence of the Nevilles until the reign of Elizabeth, when Charles the Sixth and last Earl of Westmoreland of that family, engaged in a weak conspiracy to dethrone his sovereign. He died in exile in 1584 and the estate reverted to the Crown. James I, offered the property for sale and thus Raby became the property of Sir Henry Vane, the elder. (New England Historic Register, Vol. 2, p. 124, 125, for 1848.)

TWELFTH LINEAGE. (Vol. 3, p. 46, White Quarterly)

- 1 Michael Flandreusis or le Fleming, is said to have come with the Conqueror.
- 2 Michael le Fleming (perhaps his grandson), living 1126/7, when Stephen, afterwards King Stephen, founded the Abbey of Furness, then covering 65 acres, and it is said when the lands of Michael were exempted from the exactions of the Abbot of Furness, the lands of the Abbot nearly surrounded those of Michael. While John de Cancefield was Abbot, Fleming bestowed on the Abbey, the estate of Fordboc or Fordbottle. Fleming was Lord of Manor of Aldingham and when the barony of Egremont was divided, Wm. de Meschines granted to him the manor of Bechamet, where their castle of Caernavon was. After several generations this eastle was given to a younger son and suffered to go to decay, being abandoned as a residence.
- 3 William le Fleming, Lord of Aldingham, married Alice, daughter of Gospatrick of Galloway.
- 4 Sir Michael le Fleming, Lord of Aldingham, married Agatha, daughter of Henry, Lord Ravensworth.

The first of these is the fact that the British Empire is not a homogeneous entity, but a collection of diverse peoples and cultures. The second is the fact that the British Empire is not a static entity, but a dynamic one that has changed over time. The third is the fact that the British Empire is not a monolithic entity, but a complex one with many different interests and goals. The fourth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely economic entity, but a political one as well. The fifth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely military entity, but a cultural one as well. The sixth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely imperial entity, but a global one as well. The seventh is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely colonial entity, but a modern one as well. The eighth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely imperial entity, but a global one as well. The ninth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely colonial entity, but a modern one as well. The tenth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely imperial entity, but a global one as well.

THE HISTORY OF THE

1. The first of these is the fact that the British Empire is not a homogeneous entity, but a collection of diverse peoples and cultures.
2. The second is the fact that the British Empire is not a static entity, but a dynamic one that has changed over time.
3. The third is the fact that the British Empire is not a monolithic entity, but a complex one with many different interests and goals.
4. The fourth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely economic entity, but a political one as well.
5. The fifth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely military entity, but a cultural one as well.
6. The sixth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely imperial entity, but a global one as well.
7. The seventh is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely colonial entity, but a modern one as well.
8. The eighth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely imperial entity, but a global one as well.
9. The ninth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely colonial entity, but a modern one as well.
10. The tenth is the fact that the British Empire is not a purely imperial entity, but a global one as well.

- 5 Sir Michael le Fleming of Furness, Aldingham and Gleaston Castle, bore arms. His son and heir was drowned in the river Leven, leaving no issue and his estate passed to his daughter Alicia.
- 6 Alicia le Fleming married Sir Richard Cancefield, Knight, Lord of Cancefield and Farleton, Co. Lancaster and had two sons, who died without issue, making their daughter Agnes, sole heiress. In 1154 and 1189 Alicia, then a widow, confirmed to the Abbey of Cockersand, the manor of Thurman, which manor passed through the Cancefields to the Harringtons.
- 7 Agnes de Cancefield married in the reign of King Edward I, Sir Robert de Haverington of Harrington, Co. Cumberland, on the coast of the Irish Sea. They had John and Michael and daughter Elizabeth, who married William, son of Edward Neville of Liversedge.
- 8 Sir John de Harrington of Aldingham, Cancefield and Farleton, Co. Lancaster, married Juliana, daughter of Sir Richard Bellingham of Co. Cumberland. In 1340 he had a license to make a park within his manor of Aldingham. As a Baron, he was a member of Parliament when he died in 1347.
- 9 Sir John de Harrington of Melling Parish, Co. Lancaster, married Katherine, only daughter of Sir Adam Bannister, Knight, beheaded for treason in 1315, and the 4th daughter and co-heir of her mother Margaret, sister to Sir Robert Holland and widow of Sir John Blackburn. Some pedigrees give Katherine as daughter of Sir Robert Sherburne of Stoneyhurst. Perhaps she was a second wife.
- 10 Sir Nicholas Harrington of Farleton married Isabel, daughter of Sir William English of Co. Cumberland and had Sir William, Sir James, Sir Nicholas and daughter Isabel or Elizabeth, who married about 1414, Sir John Stanley, Knight of Lathom, father of Thomas, Lord Stanley and grandfather of Thomas Stanley, first Earl of Derby of that family.
- 11 Sir William Harrington of Farleton married Margaret, daughter and heiress of Sir Robert Neville of Hornby Castle. He was a standard bearer at Agincourt in 1415 and was severely wounded at the siege of Rouen in 1419 and died in 1450. In a window of Wrayholme Tower are the initials G. H., which has the knots or frets of the Harringtons above and below, the "G" standing as supposed for Guilielmus. He and his wife gave a bell to Urswick Church, within the manor of Aldingham, inscribed with their names. Margaret became co-heiress of the only surviving child of her brother, Thomas

Neville of Hornby Castle, who bore the same name, Margaret Neville and married Thomas Beaufort, Duke of Exeter, and had a son who died young, and the honor of Hornby became invested in Sir William Harrington and the other co-heir, Sir John Langton, whose interest Sir William Harrington acquired.

- 12 Agnes Harrington, their second daughter, married Sir Alexander Radcliffe of Ordsall, Knight. (See No. 5 of 13th Lineage.) She died in 1490.
- 11 Sir James Harrington, second son of Sir Nicholas (No. 10) and Isabel English, inherited the martial spirit of his ancestors. In 1403 he fought in the victory of Hatfield, which settled the usurper Henry firmly on the throne, and where Falstaff "fought an hour by Shrewsbury clock." In the retreat the Earl of Douglas, who led the Scottish contingent, fell from a cliff, when he was captured by Sir James Harrington, for which service he received from King Henry IV, a pension of one hundred marks per annum. He married Ellen, daughter of Thomas de Urswick of Urswick, which was within the manor of Aldingham.
- 12 Sir Richard Harrington, son of Sir James, married Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Sir William de Bradshaigh of Blackrod and Westleigh, born 1403. Her father died in 1415 and she succeeded to his estate and after the death of her grandmother, daughter of John de Verdon, Knight, in 1437, she came into possession of the Manors of Brixworth, Co. Northampton and Brissingham in Norfolk.
- 13 Sir William Harrington married, 1422, his cousin Elizabeth, daughter of Edmund and sister of Sir Thomas Pilkington, who fought at Bosworth for King Richard III and had his estates confiscated and was slain at battle of Stoke, 1437. Sir William died Aug. 12 in 3rd year of Henry VII.
- 14 Sir James Harrington of Wolfage, Co. Northampton and of Brixworth, died June 26, 1479, leaving widow Isabella, daughter of Sir Alexander Radcliffe of Ordsall, Knight (see No. 5 of 13th Lineage) and his wife Agnes, daughter of Sir William and Margaret (Neville) (see No. 14 of 11th Lineage) Harrington of Hornby (see No. 11 of 12th Lineage). Isabella married second Thomas Talbot and died June 20, 1497. Their only son was drowned.
- 15 Alice Harrington married Ralph Standish of Standish. (See No. 55 of Royal Ancestry of John Prescott.)

THIRTEENTH LINEAGE

- 2 Adam de Molines of Sefton married Annota, daughter and heiress of Benedict le Gernet of Halton, the Forester of Lancashire, by whom he had Speke.
- 3 Robert de Molines of Sefton and Espeke married in the time of King John, Beatrice, granddaughter of Sir Alan de Villiers, son of Paganaus de Villiers or Villars, Lord of Little Crosby and acquired with her, that estate. Her father was Baron of Warrington.
- 4 Richard de Molineux of Sefton, Little Crosby and Espeke, married Edith, sister and co-heiress of Almeric and daughter of William le Boteler, Baron of Warrington, Co. Lancaster.
- 5 Adam de Molineux of Sefton had in 1228 a commission for the pernumbulation of the forests of Co. Lancaster and paid forty marks to have seizin of the inheritance from his father. He is depicted on a window, in Bridgeworth Church, Co. Salop, in a suit of armor whereon was his coat of arms. By wife Letitia Brinley he had sons William and Roger.
- 6 Sir William de Molineux of Sefton was knighted in 1255 and married Margaret, daughter of Sir Alan Thornton of Thornton.
- 7 Sir Richard de Molineux of Sefton married Emma, daughter of Done of the family of Done, hereditary bow bearers and chief foresters of Delamere Forest, Co. Chester, where Princess Ethelfleda, daughter of King Alfred the Great, had her "Castle in the Forest."

- 8 Sir William Molineux, Knight of Sefton, was made a Knight Bannerett in Gascony in 1286 by Edmund Crouchback, Earl of Lancaster, son of King Henry III. He married Isabel, daughter of Scarisbrick of Scarisbrick, and died 1289.
- 9 Sir Richard Molineux of Sefton, Knight, married Agatha, daughter and heiress of Sir Roger Kryston of Lardbrook, and died in 1363.
- 10 Elena Molineux married in 1370 Sir Richard Bold. (See No. 50 of Royal Ancestry of John Prescott.)

NOTE. The name of Guillaume de Molines was 18th on the Roll of Battle Abbey, and on the list of Warriors at Hastings from the Norman Chronicles prepared by Hollinshed. He was named from the place of his birth, Moulines in Normandy. He was much trusted by Duke William and had a grant at Sefton in Lancashire and was appointed Castellan of his fortress, sometimes called "The Castle of Derby." The grant of Sefton was from Roger of Poictou.

RICE

1 EDMUND RICE came from Barkhamstead, Co. Hertfordshire, England, and settled in Sudbury, Mass., in 1638 or 1639. He resided on the east side of the Sudbury River in what is now Wayland. He was one of the Selectmen of that place in 1644 and other years and in 1648 became Deacon in the church. His wife, Tamazine, maiden name ~~not known~~, died in Marlboro, Mass., June 13, 1654, and he married, March 1, 1655, Mercy Hurd, widow of Thomas Brigham.

He was one of the first settlers of Marlboro, Mass., and resided in the western part of the town on the old country road leading to Northboro. He died at Marlboro, May 3, 1663, and was buried at Sudbury, from which place he was Deputy for the years of 1640, 1643, 1652, 1653, 1654. In a deposition on file in Cambridge, dated April 3, 1656, he stated he was about 62 years of age.

2 THOMAS RICE, son of Edmund and Tamazine Rice, was born in England and is first mentioned in New England at Sudbury, where he married Mary, daughter of Peter King, of that place. They removed to Marlboro, where he died, Nov. 16, 1681, and she on March 22, 1714/15.

2 HENRY RICE, son of Edmund and Tamazine Rice, was born in England, 1617, and died in Framingham, Mass., Feb. 10, 1710/11. He was Corporal of Militia at Sudbury in 1686 and he was married there, Feb. 1, 1643, to Elizabeth Moore of that place, whose ancestry has not been satisfactorily established. White

2 EDWARD RICE, son of Edmund and Tamazine Rice, was born in England, 1619, and died in Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 15, 1712, to which place he had removed from Sudbury and where he became one of the Deacons of the Church. He married Anna, maiden name not known, who died in Marlboro, June 4, 1713, aged 83 years. He was a member of the West Middlesex Regiment which was quartered in his Garrison House in 1691.

3 MARY RICE, daughter of Thomas and Mary (King) Rice, was born in Sudbury, Mass., Sept. 4, 1656, and married, Nov. 28, 1678, as his second wife, Josiah White, who died in 1714, and she became the wife of Thomas Sawyer.

See White.

3 MARY RICE, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth (Moore) Rice, was born in Sudbury, Mass., Sept. 19, 1646, and died before May 30, 1695, as the wife of Thomas Brigham, who died in 1716.

See Brigham.

3 BENJAMIN RICE, son of Edward and Anna Rice, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Dec. 22, 1666, and married at Sudbury, April 1, 1691, Mary Graves. They resided at Marlboro, where he died Feb. 23, 1748/9 and she on Oct. 22, 1736, aged 66 years.

4 SIMON RICE, son of Benjamin and Mary (Graves) Rice, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Jan. 9, 1699 and died at his home in Westboro, Mass., May 31, 1733. He married, Jan. 23, 1726/7, Grace, daughter of John and Hannah (Morse) Newton, born Jan. 30, 1704. She died May 16, 1788 as the widow of Daniel Ward of Marlboro, whom she married Jan. 24, 1758, having previously become the widow of Edward Barns of Marlboro, whom she married May 16, 1739.

4 RACHEL RICE, daughter of Benjamin and Mary (Graves) Rice, was born in Marlboro, Mass., Nov. 2, 1703, and married there, May 20, 1724, Abraham Howe, born March 21, 1698, son of Joseph and Dorothy (Martin) Howe.

See Howe.

5 GRACE RICE, daughter of Simon and Grace (Newton) Rice, was born June 13, 1729 and died Jan. 23, 1816, as the wife of Joseph Howe, born Feb. 1, 1728, whom she married May 21, 1751.

See Howe.

SANDERSON

1 EDWARD SANDERSON married, Oct. 15, 1645, Mary Eggleston. He sold his property in Watertown, Mass., and removed to Cambridge, where the name variously appears as Sanders, Saunders and Sanderson.

2 JONATHAN SANDERSON, son of Edward and Mary (Eggleston) Sanderson, was born in Watertown, Mass., Sept. 15, 1646, and died in Waltham, Sept. 3, 1735. He married in Cambridge, Oct. 24, 1669, Abiah Bartlett, born May 28, 1651, youngest daughter of Ensign Thomas and Hannah Bartlett of Watertown. She died Sept. 13, 1723 and both of their grave stones are still standing in Waltham in the old or lower graveyard. He was Constable in Waltham, 1695, and Selectman for ten years between 1703 and 1719.

3 SAMUEL SANDERSON, son of Jonathan and Abiah (Bartlett) Sanderson, was born in Cambridge, Mass., May 28, 1681, and died in Waltham, July 21, 1744. He married, April 13, 1708, Mercy, born Sept. 16, 1683, daughter of Abraham and Sarah (Fiske) Gale. She died May 8, 1776.

4 MERCY SANDERSON, daughter of Samuel and Mercy (Gale) Sanderson, was born in Watertown, Mass., Nov. 26, 1718, and married, in Waltham, Nov. 24, 1743, John Adams of Lexington, born Feb. 22, 1716/17.

See Adams.

SAWYER

1 THOMAS SAWYER was born in Lincolnshire, England, in 1615 and died in Lancaster, Mass., Sept. 12, 1706, being one of the first six settlers of that place. He married in 1648, Mary, daughter of John and Mary (Gawkroger) Prescott. He served in King Philip's War of 1675/6 and all of his family including himself, and excepting his son, Ephraim, escaped death from the Indians.

2 THOMAS SAWYER, son of Thomas and Mary (Prescott) Sawyer, was born in Lancaster, Mass., May 2, 1649 and tradition states that he was the first white child born there. He died in that place Sept. 5, 1736. He married first, Sarah Fairbanks of Dedham, on 11th day, 8th month, 1670. She died on 21st day of 9th month, 1671/2 and he married second, 21st day of 9th month, 1672, Hannah Lewis of Roxbury; he married third, Mary, daughter of Thomas Rice and widow of Josiah White.

During King Philip's War of 1675/6 his home was a Garrison House and it was located on the east side of Main St. at South Lancaster. During the second attack by the Indians on Lancaster in 1704 and 1705, Thomas Sawyer and his son, Elias, and John Bigelow were captured and taken prisoners to Canada. On arriving there John Bigelow and Elias Sawyer were delivered into the hands of the French Governor, but Thomas Sawyer they were determined to keep as he had caused the death of several of their number and he was destined for torture. He was taken out, fastened to a stake, the fagots made ready for the fire when a man appeared as a Friar, exhibiting what he claimed to be the keys to purgatory and told them if they tortured Sawyer he would unlock the gates to purgatory and pitch them in. Superstition prevailed and unbinding him, he was delivered to the French Governor also.

The building of a saw mill described under John Bigelow won their freedom.

2 MARY SAWYER, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Prescott) Sawyer, was born in Lancaster, Mass., Jan. 4, 1652 and married there, Sept. 24, 1673, Nathaniel Wilder, born Nov. 3, 1650, died July 31, 1704.

See Wilder.

3 ELIAS SAWYER, son of Thomas and Hannah (Lewis) Sawyer, was born in Lancaster, Mass., and died there Nov. 20th, 1752, in his 63rd year. He was taken prisoner by the Indians as stated above and removed by them to Canada. He was not given his freedom until a year after his father and John Bigelow were freed. As the saw mill had been built the French kept him to run it. While there he became interested in a young woman who when he left presented him with a small brown earthen plate which in 1883 was owned by Elsworth Sawyer of Phillipston, Mass. Tradition states that he always regretted that he failed to return and marry her. He married, in Lancaster, Beatrix, daughter of John and Mary (Farrar) Houghton.

4 ELISHA SAWYER, son of Elias and Beatrix (Houghton) Sawyer, was baptized in Lancaster, Mass., April 17, 1718, and married there, for his second wife, March 8, 1756, Susanna Huck. Their intentions to marry were recorded March 3, 1756, and stated that she was of Bolton, Mass., but a careful search of that place and all the surrounding towns of Lancaster fail to reveal her parentage. It is presumed they resided in Sterling, Mass.

5 SUSANNA SAWYER, daughter of Elisha and Susanna (Huck) Sawyer, was born in Lancaster, Mass., June 22, 1760 and died in West Boylston, "about age 50," as the wife of Nathan Wilder, born May 3, 1760, died April 8, 1822.

See Wilder.

SHATTUCK

1 WILLIAM SHATTUCK was born in England, 1621 and died in Watertown, Mass., Aug. 14, 1672. He was a weaver, a handicraft of considerable importance in his day when all articles of clothing were the product of household manufacture. He willed his loom to his son William. He was buried in the old cemetery on the road leading from Cambridge to Watertown, a short distance west of Mt. Auburn. A stone erected there to his memory in the early 1850's is located in the northwest corner at the turn of the road to Brighton. He married, about 1642, Susanna, whose maiden name is not known. She married, second, Nov. 18, 1673, Richard Norcross and died in Watertown, Dec. 11, 1686.

2 SUSANNA SHATTUCK, daughter of William and Susanna Shattuck, was born in Watertown, Mass., in 1643, and married, April 12, 1661, Joseph Morse, born 1637. In 1666 they removed to Groton and stayed there until the destruction of the town by the Indians in 1676 when he returned to Watertown. He died in 1677.

On July 5, 1678, Susanna married, second, John Fay, whose first wife was Mary Brigham. He died in 1690 and she married, third, May 30, 1695, Thomas Brigham of Marlboro, who died Nov. 15, 1717 and she died March 16, 1716.

WARD

1 WILLIAM WARD was born in England, 1597 and died in Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 10, 1687. He first located in Sudbury, which place he represented in the General Court in 1644. In 1656 he, with others from Sudbury, petitioned the Court for a plantation at Marlborough and removed there in 1660, representing that town in 1666. He was also elected Deacon of the First Church in the same year. He married Elizabeth, maiden name not known, who died in Marlboro, Dec. 9, 1700, aged 87 years. He also served in King Philip's War of 1675/6.

2 HANNAH WARD, daughter of William and Elizabeth Ward was born about 1639 and died in Marlboro, Mass., Nov. 3, 1717, as the widow of Abraham Howe, who died June 30, 1695, and whom she married May 6, 1657.

WHEELOCK

1 RALPH WHEELOCK was born in England about 1600 and graduated from Cambridge University in 1626. With wife, Rebecca, maiden name not known, and son Gershom, he sailed for New England in 1637, they having one child born on the voyage.

He located in Watertown, Mass., and signed the Dedham Covenant, his name being tenth on the list. He was one of the four in the early Town Records to whom the title of "Mr." was applied, signifying he was a leader in the Colony. He was freeman of Dedham in 1639 and represented that place in the General Court of Mass. in 1639 and 1640 and in 1642 was "Clerk of the Writs." In 1644 forty persons met in Town Meeting and voted to raise twenty pounds and to also set apart a piece of land for the benefit of a school and this is declared to be the first school, supported by a town tax, that opened in Mass. He was chosen its teacher, receiving ten shillings a week and he taught from 1644 until 1651.

Just prior to the latter date he removed to Medfield and represented that place in the General Court 1653, 1663, 1664, 1666, 1667. In 1675 he contributed two bushels of Indian corn to Harvard College. He died in Medfield, Jan. 11, 1684, and his wife died there Jan. 1, 1682.

2. EXPERIENCE WHEELOCK, daughter of Ralph and Rebecca Wheelock, was born in Dedham, Mass., 1648, and was baptized Sept. 3, 1648, and married Joseph Warren, May 21, 1668, who died Nov. 18, 1718.

WHITE

1 ROBERT WHITE, the earliest known of this family, was churchwarden in South Petherton, Somerset Co., England in 1578, and he was buried there as "Senior," Sept. 7, 1600. His wife Alice was buried there Aug. 22, 1596.

2 ROBERT WHITE, son of Robert and Alice White, was of South Petherton, England, in 1598, and probably earlier. He was churchwarden in 1601 and died March 8, 1642. His wife Joan died Sept. 13, 1631.

3 JOHN WHITE, son of Robert and Joan White, was baptized in the "Old Church" in South Petherton, Eng., March 7, 1602 and married in Drayton Parish, Co. Somerset, May 28, 1627, Joan, daughter of Richard and Maudlin (Staple-Cooke) West, baptized in Drayton, April 16, 1606. Their two eldest sons were born there.

He was in Salem, Mass., in 1638 and in 1639 is frequently mentioned. In 1642 he was granted six acres of land in Wenham, then part of Salem, in which place he seems to have resided. In 1909 this farm was owned by David Pingree. Joan was admitted to the First Church in Salem in 1642 and as their children were all baptized in her name, indications are that he was not a church member.

They removed to Lancaster, where he is first mentioned in 1653, when he had twenty acres of land granted him between that of James Atherton and John Lewis and his house stood near the east end of the lot where the home of Edward Houghton now stands, and in 1900 his direct descendants were living there.

Their first home was burnt by the Indians in the massacre of 1675/6 and the second house stood until 1816, when it was accidentally destroyed by fire.

His will was proved May 28, 1673, and his inventory shows that he owned four hundred and ninety-seven acres of land. In the Memorial Library at Lancaster, Mass., is a sideboard or cupboard which he brought to New England with him in 1638 and which descended to his daughter Mary, wife of Rev. Joseph Rowlandson, and which remained in the family for one hundred and fifty years. In 1876 it was owned by J. W. Dunlap of South Hadley, Mass., who sold it to the above Library for one hundred dollars.

His knee buckles which he wore in 1638 were owned in 1900 by Prof. John W. White of Harvard College.

His wife Joan died in Lancaster, 18 of 3rd month, 1654.

4 JOANNA WHITE, daughter of John and Joan (West) White, was baptized in South Petherton, Eng., Feb. 24, 1633 and married Capt. Thomas Fiske, whose will was proven Sept. 1, 1707.

See Fiske.

4 JOSIAH WHITE, son of John and Joan (West) White, was baptized in Salem, Mass., June 4, 1643 and died in Lancaster, Nov. 11, 1714. He served throughout King Philip's War of 1675/6, his home being one of the Garrison Houses, and he was Sergeant of the Train Band there in 1704. He married, Nov. 28, 1678, for his second wife, Mary, daughter of Thomas and Mary (King) Rice. She married, second, Thomas Sawyer and died Aug. 22, 1733.

4 SARAH WHITE, daughter of John and Joan (West) White, was baptized in Salem, Mass., April 9, 1643 and married, Oct. 13, 1658, James Hosmer, Jr. of Concord, who was killed in King Philip's War, at Sudbury, March 31, 1676 and she married, second, Dec. 31, 1676, Samuel, son of Edmund and Thomazine Rice.

See Hosmer.

4 HANNAH WHITE, youngest daughter of John and Joan (West) White, was probably born in Wenham, Mass. She is mentioned in her father's will, wherein he states that she has been a nurse to him in his old age and he leaves her remarkably well provided for. She married, in Lancaster, 23rd of 10th month, 1663, Ensign John Divoll, who was killed by the Indians, Feb. 10, 1675/6, and she and her children were taken prisoners, some of whom died in captivity, but she was ransomed, May 12, 1676, at Portsmouth and before 1679 she was the wife of Samuel Lummis of Ipswich and died before July 2, 1717.

See Divoll.

5 SARAH WHITE, daughter of Josiah and Mary (Rice) White, was born in Lancaster, Mass., Oct. 21, 1680 and became the wife of John Wilder, who was born July 11, 1673. The Wilder Book states that she was Sarah Sawyer but on the settling of the estate of Josiah White she was proven to have been Sarah White, daughter of Josiah and the facts showed that she had a stepfather Thomas Sawyer.

See Wilder.

WHITNEY

1 JOHN WHITNEY, aged 35 years, with wife Elinor, aged 30 years, and four young sons, embarked at London, England, in April, 1635, in the ship Elizabeth and Ann, for the new world and settled in Watertown, Mass. He purchased the sixteen acre homestead of John Strickland and before 1642 the town had granted him nine other lots, amounting to 198 acres. On June 1, 1641, he was appointed Constable by the General Court. Constables were required to collect the taxes of the town and the levies made by the General Court; to pay the debts of the Colony due to the individuals in their respective towns; to supply the town with sealed weights and measures; to set or order the watch in those towns where no Captain dwelt; to inflict the punishments ordered by judicial authority. As a badge of the office a constable was required to carry a black staff, five or five and one half feet long, with a tip, five or six inches in length.

John Whitney was one of the Selectmen of Watertown from 1638 to 1655, inclusive, and Town Clerk in 1655. His wife died May 11, 1659 and he re-married, and died June 1, 1673.

2 JOHN WHITNEY, son of John and Elinor Whitney, was born in England in 1624 and died in Watertown, Mass, Oct. 12, 1692. He became one of the Selectmen of Watertown, serving from 1673 to 1679, inclusive, and also served in King Philip's War of 1675/6. In 1643 he settled and always resided on a three acre lot on the east side of Lexington St., which is probably the same lot occupied in 1857 by his great-great-grandson, Bradshaw Whitney. He married Ruth Reynolds, daughter of Robert, successively of Watertown, Wethersfield and Boston.

3 SARAH WHITNEY, daughter of John and Ruth (Reynolds) Whitney, was born in Watertown, Mass., March 17, 1653/4 and died there June 8, 1720, as the wife of Daniel Harrington, who died April 19, 1728.

See Harrington.

WILDER

1 THOMAS WILDER, who died in 1634 at Shiplake, Oxen, Berks County, England, was the son of John and Alice (Keats) Wilder, said John dying in 1588, leaving his wife Alice his executrix. She was the daughter of Thomas Keats of Sulham House. Said John Wilder was the son of John and Agnes Wilder, who in 1525 was in possession of the estate of Nicholas Wilder, by entail, and Nicholas was a military chieftain in the army of the Earl of Richmond at the Battle of Bosworth in 1485.

Thomas Wilder, who died in 1634, left a widow Martha, whose maiden name is not known, but she left England for America in May, 1638, sailing in the ship Confidence from Southampton. She settled in Hingham, Mass., where she was granted a house lot of five acres on what is now Main near Pleasant St. She died there April 20, 1652.

2 THOMAS WILDER, son of Thomas and Martha Wilder, was born in England in 1618 and died in Lancaster, Mass., Oct. 23, 1667. He was of Charlestown in 1639 and joined the church there March 30, 1640. He married, while in Charlestown, Anna, whose parentage is not known, but as his wife she joined the church there March 7, 1650 and died June 10, 1692, in Lancaster. They were married in 1641.

They removed to Lancaster in 1659 and in 1660 he was one of the Selectmen of that place, retaining the office until his death, Oct. 23, 1677.

3 JOHN WILDER, son of Thomas and Anna Wilder, was born in Charlestown, Mass., 1646 and married, in Lancaster, May 17, 1672, Hannah, whose maiden name is not given in the marriage record. At the uprising of the Indians in King Philip's War of 1675/6, he was Lieutenant of the Train Band but after the destruction of that town he returned to Lancaster but his death is not recorded there nor that of his wife.

3 NATHANIEL WILDER, son of Thomas and Anna Wilder, was born in Charlestown, Mass., Nov. 3, 1650 and died as Lieut. of Militia, July 31, 1704, being killed by the Indians during their assault on Lancaster. At the time of their attack on Lancaster in 1675, one of the Indians surrendered and he was killed by Nathaniel Wilder and Daniel Hoar, for which they were tried and condemned.

In Oct., 1676, they presented a memorial to the General Court, acknowledging the justice of the verdict and asked for pardon. Their request was granted on condition they pay the Indian who prosecuted them ten pounds and pay the costs of the trial, which they did. He had suffered the loss of his home and cattle by the Indian attacks and had been compelled to leave Lancaster and take refuge in Sudbury, where some of his children were born, but he returned to Lancaster to assist in re-building the place and at last lost his life in defending his home against the Indians.

He married, Nov. 24, 1673, Mary, daughter of Thomas and Mary Sawyer, born Jan. 4, 1652.

4 DOROTHY WILDER, daughter of Lt. Nathaniel Wilder (later Capt.), was born in Lancaster, Mass., 1686 and married there, in March, 1701, Samuel Carter, born Jan. 7, 1677/8, died Aug. 30, 1738.

See Carter.

4 JOHN WILDER, son of John and Hannah Wilder, was born in Lancaster, May 11, 1673 and baptized there, July 12, 1673. In 1699 married Sarah White born Oct. 21, 1680, and lived in that part of Lancaster then known as the Six Nations, but what is now known as the town of Clinton. Ex-President Taft is one of their descendants.

5 JOSIAH WILDER, son of Johr and Sarah (White) Wilder, was born in Lancaster, Mass., June 6, 1700 and married, July 7, 1725, Prudence Keyes. They removed to Boylston in 1730 and on Jan. 23, 1739 she and four of her children were burned to death, as per the monument erected to their memory in the old cemetery at Lancaster. He married, second, March 30, 1742, Miriam Gates, of Stowe, and died at West Boylston, March 1, 1782, in his 81st year.

6 ABNER WILDER, son of Josiah and Prudence (Keyes) Wilder, was born in Lancaster, Mass., Nov. 4, 1725 and died there in Dec. 4, 1813. He married, June 27, 1750, Eunice, daughter of David and Eunice (Carter) Osgood, baptized in Lancaster, March 20, 1724/5. He served in the Revolutionary War as per Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolution, p. 347, as a private in Capt. Eager's Co., Josiah Whitney's Regt., Dec. 17, 1777 returns. On March 27, 1777, the company marched to reinforce the army under Washington in N. J. Roll dated Lancaster. His wife died in Sterling, Feb. 14, 1786, aged 60 years and 6 mos.

7 NATHAN WILDER, son of Abner and Eunice (Osgood) Wilder, was born in Lancaster, in the part now known as West Boylston, May 3, 1760, and his marriage intentions are recorded there to Susanna Sawyer, March 10, 1781. She was born June 22, 1760, the daughter of Elisha and Susanna (Huck) Sawyer. He served as a private in the Revolutionary War under Capt. David Moore, which he entered Aug. 1, 1780 and was discharged Oct. 24, 1780. The Regt. was to reinforce the Continental Army for three months. (Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolution for Mass., p. 347.) The marriage of Nathan and Susanna is given in the church records at West Boylston as taking place April 5, 1781 and he died there, April 8, 1822 and she "when about 50 years of age."

8 EUNICE WILDER, daughter of Nathan and Susanna (Sawyer) Wilder, was born in Sterling, Mass., Jan. 13, 1790. Her parents joined the church there in 1782 and her grandparents on Dec. 8, 1751. She died June 17, 1873, as the widow of Gershom Bigelow, born March 22, 1768, died Oct. 27, 1847, whom she married as his second wife. His first wife being Mary, daughter of Abraham and Lydia (Howe) Howe.

WOODMAN

1 EDWARD WOODMAN with wife Joanna, maiden name not known, was one of the fifteen of the ninety-one settlers of Newbury, Mass., who was entitled to the prefix "Mr." He was born in England in 1612 and died before 1694. He was one of the first Selectmen of Newbury and history tells us that he was a man of talents, influence, firmness and decision. As Lieutenant he served through the Pequot War of 1637 and was Deputy to the General Court in 1636, 1637, 1639 and 1643 and in 1638, 1641, 1645, 1646 he was a commissioner to end small causes. The name of his wife is not known.

2 JOSHUA WOODMAN, son of Lt. Edward and Joanna Woodman, was the first male white child born in Newbury, Mass., 1636. He married, in Andover, Jan. 23, 1666, Elizabeth, daughter of Lt. John Stevens and she died there in 1714.

He probably died in Byfield Parish, then in Rowley, Mass., for where the Meeting House stands is the line between Newbury and Rowley, with the cemetery adjoining and about fifty feet from the Meeting House are a few small slate markers and one of them states that Joshua Woodman, died May 30, 1703, aged 67 years, being "the first man child born in Newbury and the second interred in this place."

3 DOROTHY WOODMAN, daughter of Joshua and Elizabeth (Stevens) Woodman, was born in Andover, Mass., Nov. 13, 1669 and married there, April 26, 1692, Hooker Osgood.

See Osgood.

WOODS

1 JOHN WOODS, pin maker, was early of Sudbury, Mass., and was one of the petitioners for the town of Marlboro, and shared in its first division of land and became one of the prominent men of the place, serving as one of the Selectmen in 1663, 1664, 1665. He died there July 10, 1678. In King Philip's War of 1675/6 he served as sergeant in the Marlboro Garrison House.

He married Mary, daughter of John and Bridget Parmenter, who died Aug. 17, 1690, aged 80 years.

2 JOHN WOODS, son of John and Mary (Parmenter) Woods, was born in Sudbury, Mass., May 8, 1641 and served under his father in King Philip's War, 1675/6, in the Garrison at Marlboro. He was Constable in 1677 and became a Deacon in the church Sept., 1704 and died April 5, 1716. He married Lydia, whose maiden name has been searched for but not found. She died in Marlboro, Sept. 24, 1723.

3 LYDIA WOODS, daughter of John and Lydia Woods, was born in Marlboro, Mass., July 11, 1672 and died in Shrewsbury, Mass., Jan. 7, 1739, as the widow of Abraham Eager, who died Oct. 25, 1734.

WYETH

1 NICHOLAS WYETH of Cambridge, Mass., in 1647, brought from England, his daughter, Sarah. No mention is found of his first wife and she probably died before he left that country. He died July 19, 1680, aged 85 years, survived by second wife Rebecca, whom he married about 1648. She was the widow of Thomas Andrews of Cambridge.

2 SARAH WYETH, daughter of Nicholas Wyeth and his first wife, was born in England and married, in Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 11, 1651, John Fiske of Watertown.
